Creditors Worry About SunEdison Defaulting on $1.4 Billion Debt

SunEdison reported total debt of $11.7 billion at the end of September, more than double the amount a year earlier, as it bought up wind and solar developers and projects on six continents. That's prompted questions about whether it borrowed too much, too fast, and has helped make it the worst performer on the 104-member WilderHill New Energy Global Innovation Index in the past year.
